STATE LIBRARY OF IOWA

Southeast District - May 8, 2020

Director Roundtables

I hope you are planning to join us at one of our first ever virtual Director Roundtables. Our 2020 continuing education theme is Project Management, which kicked off with ILOC last January and will be the theme of this year's roundtables.

Recently, roundtables have consisted of a fair amount of educational content with lots of discussion for the first two hours. We would then leave it open to whatever you would like to talk about. This spring, we will still have lots of time for information and discussion about project management. However, we will have Sam Bouwers, CE coordinator for the State Library, as our guest, to get feedback about the new State Library Education Endorsement Program. Because of this, we may not have as much time for general discussion.

You are receiving this because you are either on the SE District email list or because you signed up for one of the SE District Roundtables.

We have three dates scheduled and have over 30 people registered for May 14, so if you would like to switch to one of the other dates, please let me know. Currently we are at 13 attendees on May 19 and only 6 people on May 21. You can sign up or change your registration in the CE catalog.

See you in a couple of weeks!
